PUBLIC IS INVITED

Hope Legion Post to Be Host to Southwestern District

Past National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer, of El Dorado, will address a district meeting of the American Legion in Hope city hall at 8 o'clock Thursday night, January 21.

Confirmation of Major Bodenhamer's engagement here was received late Monday by J. L. Stringer, commander of the Leslie Huddleston post of the Legion.

While in Hope for a noon-day luncheon two weeks ago opening the state membership campaign, the national commander promised to return at a night meeting when legionnaires and other ex-service men and guests from surrounding counties could attend.

In addition to Major Bodenhamer, other speakers will be: Past State Commander Kosminsky, of Texarkana; State Adjutant Sessions, of Little Rock; and possibly State Commander Armstrong of Fort Smith.

The meeting Thursday night will be open to all the public, the Hope post announced.

Commander Bodenhamer is a "forceful" speaker, one of Arkansas' best-known national figures, and is expected to deliver an address that will be of interest to all citizens.

Harrison Murder Trial Under Way

Roger Gibson Faces Jury Second Time for Slaying Produce Dealer

HARRISON—The second trial of Roger Gibson, Harrison, on a charge of first degree murder for the death of Guy Mann, Mountain Home produce dealer, November 3, 1930, opened Monday.

Gibson's first trial a year ago resulted in a discharged jury. Gibson has been at liberty on bond ever since.

The regular jury panel of 24 was exhausted and 22 special veniremen were examined before the jury was selected.

Opening statements indicated that the evidence to be offered will be practically the same as that of the first trial. V. D. Willis, who is assisting prosecuting Attorney Jack Holt, described the killing as a deliberate, premeditated murder, and said the state will ask the death penalty.

J. Loyd Ehouse made the opening statement for Gibson. He said the evidence would show that Mann had been attentive to Mrs. Gibson for a year or more before the killing, that he had been warned to discontinue these attentions, that he had promised to do so and that he had disregarded the warnings and broken his promise.

On the night of the killing, Mr. Shouse said the evidence would show, Gibson overheard Mann and Mrs. Gibson agree to meet at the corner where the shooting took place. Mr. Shouse said that Gibson would testify that he intercepted his wife and then went alone to meet Mann, that he protested with Mann as he sat in the cab of his truck waiting for Mrs. Gibson, and that Mann threw his left arm around Gibson's head and drew him into the cab of the truck. Gibson will testify that the attorney said, that while Mann was groping about the floor of the truck cab, apparently for a weapon, Gibson drew his pistol from a side pocket of his coat and shot Mann through the head.

Only four witnesses were heard. All, including A. C. Christeson, coroner, testified to the finding of Mann, fatally wounded and unconscious in the cab truck.

Increase in Work Asked By Laborers

More Jobs Sought Over Wage Slash at Parley Between Officials

CHICAGO—(AP)—Organized railway labor, asked by the managements to accept 10 per cent wage reductions for one year, inquired Monday if the carriers would be willing to increase employment by approximately the same percentage.

In the negotiations between rail presidents and heads of brotherhoods and unions, the labor delegation had originally asked that "an average force" be assured employment for one year. The president, stating in a general way that the wage reduction would stimulate employment but at the same time doubting that they could give definite assurance of employment had asked for a more detailed suggestion.

This was the answer of the labor group considered to be the crux of the entire negotiations.

"Would the railroads agree to guarantee during the period for which they have proposed a payroll reduction to maintain as a minimum amount of work not less than the total man hours worked by each class of employees in the year 1930."

Since the number of man hours was approximately 10 per cent less last year than in 1930 this would mean additional employment of about that much.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

Re-Rating of Hope Insurance Risk Is Begun on Tuesday

Five Inspectors Arrive in City to Investigate Local Fire Hazards

ISSUE GAS WARNING

Rubber Stove Connections Will Be Removed at Owner's Cost

Five officials of the Arkansas Fire Insurance Bureau arrived in Hope Tuesday morning to re-rate all fire insurance risks in this city.

Headed by Charles W. Burns, the inspectors are: C. H. Rutherford, William S. Boaz, Robert W. Burns and J. E. Hornbrook. They are maintaining headquarters at the Capital Hotel.

Mr. Burns asked the co-operation of all business men and residents in checking up on office buildings and houses. The inspectors will present their credentials before entering any building.

One specific warning was issued to householders. All rubber hose connections on gas stoves should be removed before the inspectors arrive, or the inspectors will remove the rubber pieces themselves and replace them with metal connections, charging the householder for the work. Rubber hose connections on gas stoves are prohibited under the insurance code.

It is expected to take several days to check the entire city, bringing the insurance-risk record up to date and adjusting each policy to the actual risk that its building represents.

500 Repair Levee to Save Greenwood

Leflore County City Now Threatened by Rising Flood Waters

GLENDORA, Miss.—(AP)—Greenwood, Leflore County, is now bearing its share of flood waters in company with scores of small towns inundated by floods in six or eight counties of the Tallahatchie river valley.

The Yazoo river at Greenwood today registered 40 feet and spread its waters further and higher at the city limits than it has ever done before. The water was rising very slowly but the level outside the dikes was two feet higher than the street level.

Five hundred men worked through the day on the west side of Greenwood patching up walls to save the business section from water backing through five washouts in the Columbus and Greenville railway embankment, two miles west of the city.

Thirty thousand acres went under water today in Quitman county in the upper Tallahatchie valley after a crevasse broke in the main west bank levee of the Tallahatchie river 12 miles from Lambert. The new inundation sent refugees scurrying to Lambert, Marks and Crowder, all of which are practically surrounded by water.

East levees in Tallahatchie county have been deserted to the mercy of the flood because of a criss-cross of levee breaks, but on the west side of the river in Quitman, Panola and Tallahatchie counties, convicts were used to sandbag against water pouring over the Coldwater dikes.

Former Film Star Robbed of Jewels

Carmel Myers, Now Wife of Lawyer, Valued Gems at $20,000

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal.—(AP)—Carmel Myers, screen star who left motion pictures several years ago to become a housewife, snapped on the lights in her apartment early Monday and turned around to face two masked men with drawn revolvers.

They forced her to surrender jewels which she valued at $20,000, and with a warning not to notify police for half an hour, cut the telephone wires and fled.

She escaped being bound and gagged when she told the robbers that she expected to become a mother this spring. As they walked out the door she began to cry and one of them turned around and tossed back her wedding ring.

Pipeline Companies Spend $100,000,000

Two of World's Largest Lines Are Completed in 1931

AMARILLO, Texas.—(AP)—Major gas pipeline companies spent $100,000,000 in the Panhandle field during 1931. Considerably more than that amount was spent by the same companies in other states to develop their gas distributing systems which originate in the Panhandle.

Two of the world's largest gas pipelines were completed from the area during the year. One of these was connected at Torre Haute, Ind., with an Eastern system, and gas from the prolific Panhandle field is now being burned in New York City. The other line is supplying Chicago.

These pipelines and two others are providing fuel for the industries and homes of all the larger cities in the Middle West.

Pat Casey to Run For City Attorney

Candidate Fires Opening Gun in the Local Campaign

Pat Casey announced as a candidate for city attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic city primary election February 23, in the political column of today's Star.

Mr. Casey, a former deputy prosecuting attorney and well known to the voters, made the following campaign statement:

"In announcing my candidacy for the office of City Attorney I do so with a sincerity for the best interest of the city and all the men, women and children of our city. A public office is a public trust and so should be looked upon by every public office holder and the matter of individual or selfish interest of a public servant should be entirely eliminated.

"The salary of the present incumbent in the office of City Attorney of Hope was raised one hundred per cent, from $300.00 a year to $600.00 within less than thirty days after he received his appointment.

"As a taxpayer and attorney I feel that this one hundred per cent boost in the office of City Attorney is unwarranted and unjustified and unfair to the citizens of Hope and I pledge that if I am elected to the office of City Attorney the very first act I shall do upon entering the office is to demand the City Council that they pass an ordinance annulling this one hundred per cent raise and fix the salary of this office not to exceed the old rate of pay $300.00 per annum.

"I am for right economy in the City Government; and if I am elected City Attorney I pledge myself and the machinery of that office, to resist any attempted diversion or unlawful misappropriation of the City funds for private purposes.

"I will appreciate the support of every citizen and taxpayer of Hope who believes in and want a fair, honest and economic administration of its affairs."

Hiccough Victim Still Improving

Drive Over Rough Road May Have Resulted in Checking Malady

STUTTGART, Ark.—Mrs. Ethel Cantrell, who suffered severe attacks of hiccoughing during the past 24 days, lay restfully in her bed at the Drenn hospital here Monday night, apparently almost cured of the strange ailment which began sapping her strength when she was confined to her home December 26, though no one seems to know what was responsible for relieving her.

Dr. S. A. Drennen, owner of the hospital to which Mrs. Cantrell was taken Sunday afternoon, after she was brought from her home in Humphrey, was not in Stuttgart Monday night. Employees of the hospital, and C. P. Turpin, whose ambulance was used in bringing the woman here, refused to give out information regarding what steps were taken to relieve Mrs. Cantrell's condition. Dr. A. Fowler of Humphrey, physician who has been handling the case, could not be reached.

It was said here that Mrs. Cantrell's ride over rough rain-washed roads between Humphrey and Stuttgart may have resulted in checking her hiccoughing.

Almost constant hiccoughing during a period of almost four weeks was said not to have caused any complications in Mrs. Cantrell's condition, though she had been greatly weakened.

The three indicted are being held in northeast Arkansas jails but officers refused to tell where they are. Circuit Judge John L. Bledsoe is presiding and most of the day was taken up in making out the calendar. Only civil cases will be tried this week and criminal cases will be heard next week. The petit jury will be called Wednesday morning.

W. C. T. U. Observes 12th Prohi Year

5 Million Americans Ask- ed to Sign Pledges Against Liquor

As a part of its nation-wide celebration of the twelfth anniversary of the 18th Amendment which occurred January 16, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union started the enrollment of at least 5 million Americans opposed to drink. Pledges are being distributed to the public through the 10 thousand local W. C. T. U. organizations.

The pledges read:
"I hereby declare my purpose to abstain from alcoholic liquor as a beverage."

In the fifty-eight years of its existence it is estimated that more than 50 million persons have enrolled themselves as total abstainers through the W. C. T. U.

During the week ending January 16, meetings under W. C. T. U. auspices were held in more than three thousand communities stressing the scientific facts of the effects of alcohol on the human system and the growing conviction that intoxicating drink has no place in this age.

At every meeting the following will be read:

"We challenge the west to solve the liquor problem with anything better than total abstinence; we challenge the west to produce a better educational program than the facts concerning alcohol as divulged by science; we challenge the west to substitute something better than law observance. We challenge them to produce a program of liquor regulation which liquor men will obey and which can be guaranteed as a remedy for drunkenness, vice, lawlessness, corruption, and waste. For twelve years the west has screamed at prohibition. What have they to offer?"

Move to Dismiss Texas Tax Law Attack Fails

HOUSTON, Texas.—(AP)—A defense motion to dismiss the court attack on validity of the state automobile tax law was denied Saturday afternoon by Judge Charles E. Ashe, and one witness was offered by that side before adjournment for the day.

Tax Collector J. W. Hall and the state highway department are defendants in the suit, brought by the Harris county commissioners, on the claim the law is unconstitutional in its apportionment of fees collected in the various counties as between the counties and the state. The commissioners contend the provisions of the law discriminate against the larger counties.
The statute permits a county retain all automobile license fees up to $50, 000 and half of all collected until the county's share reaches $175,000, but requires counties to remit to the state all over that amount.

AT THE THEATER

Alternating romance, drama, comedy and pure eye-filling beauty in equal proportions, "The Rainbow Trail," Fox filmization of the famous Zane Grey romance, featuring George O'Brien, which starts Wednesday at the Saenger Theatre, is a most welcome and refreshing relief from the so-called sex and garish plays that the reviewer, for one, has grown heartily tired of.

Opening with a bang, and not slackening its pace for an instant until it comes to the happy fadeout, the new film gripped the first audience in a manner that no other film has done in months.

Telling as it does the stirring adventures of a lone cowboy, who, single handed attempts to rescue three people from a hidden and impenetrable valley in the midst of a section infested with the West's most daring outlaws, it is packed with action, thrills and some of the hardest riding ever seen on the talking screen. Not only one of the most exciting films that local fans have seen in many a day, but the strong element of romance in it is of the most appealing type.

More than a word must be said regarding the truly breath-taking backgrounds of scenic beauty against which the action is projected. One reads that the Fox unit spent three weeks in the Grand Canyon, and penetrated to the loneliest regions by pack-train to secure them. The results, however, amply justify whatever hardships may have been encountered.

No picture, of course, could possibly be so gripping if every part in it, no matter how small, were not perfectly acted. All the things that stand out are things that all for praise. Particularly notable in this regard, are the performances of George O'Brien himself, Petite Cecelia Parker, a newcomer to the screen, gives a notable performance as does the versatile Minna Gombell, Roscoe Ates, that side-splitting stutler, James Kirkwood, J. M. Kerrigan and W. L.
Thorne. Director David Howard deserves unlimited praise for the perfect accomplishment of what must have been a most arduous task.

Coast Guard Destroyer Safe After Collision

NEW LONDON, Conn.—(AP)—The coast guard destroyer Herndon, with pumps working continuously to keep her side, reeled safely to the harbor after colliding Sunday afternoon with a war and a successful battle with fog and darkness.

Hampered by the Celtic Lumber Barge in a heavy fog Friday, she was towed into this port after a first attempt Saturday. A gap 15 feet wide, extending from her wardrobe pantry to the No. 1 fire room, and including part of the bridge, was torn by the impact.

When she arrived here the tide down by the bow, with all forward compartments flooded. Continuous pumping, however, has drained all except three.

Captain L. C. Farwell, destroyer force engineer officer of the London section base; Commander R. W. Demp-wolf, chief of staff; and Lieutenant Commander J. E. Whitbeck, commander of the coast guard destroyer Ericon, have been named as a board of investigation to meet Monday.
